d. At the time when Dollfuss prepared his coup d'etat in January, 1934 he was very unhappy as he is a real Democrat and he even tried to prevent Dollfuss from destroying the Social Democrat Party. He shed tears because of the coming disaster but was too weak to carry his point and to make Dollfuss desist from his plan.

He had always the right intention but was too weak to get his way. Even in his own family his influence was not sufficient to prevent some of his children from becoming Nazis, first clandestinely and later openly.
